ANOTHER EDITOR HEARD FROM.

Headache is one of the most distressing complaints that depends upon nervous irritation, bad circulation, or a disordered reason, bad creamaton, or a disordered state of the stomach, liver, bowels, etc. The editor and proprietor of the Canada Presbyterian, was cured after years of suffering with headache, and now testifies to the virtue of Burdock Blood Bitters.

REMARKABLE AND TRUE Alonzo Howe, of Tweed, was cured of a fever sore of thirty-five years' duration, by six bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters. He had suffered terribly, and tried many remedies in vain. He considers Burdock Blood Bitters a marvellous medicino.

PHOSPHATINE. - Phosphates are the life of the blood, the nutriment that builds up and sustains the living body; they are, in other words, bone, brain, nerve and in other words, bone, brain, nerve tissue food. For sale by all druggists

AN OUNCE of prevention is better than AN OUNCE of prevention is obter than a pound of cure, and a few doses of Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure taken on the first sensation of jain in the region of the kidneys, will effectually ward off Bright's i iscase and Stone in the Kidneys and bladder. All Druggists keep it. dlwk A FACT WORTH ME TICNING.

Mulholland, of Oakville, was cured of dyspepsia and oft occurring bilious headache, by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the treat blood purifyin, system regulating onic, and matchless liver regulator. (30)

The first year's sales of the popular and liver purifying tonic—Burdock Blood Bitters—was upwards of 50,000 bottles; the second year it exceeded 100,000, with rapid and constant increase. It is a mer itorious medicine.

MORE THAN ALL OTHERS.

J. Kennedy, of Dixie, sells more of Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam than any other cough remedy, his wife having been cured of a severe cold by its use; he has since recommended it to his customers. It can be a since to accommend the self-section of the section of th ing to consumption.

MRS. ROBERT OXTOBY, of Vroomanton Ont., suffered several years with dyspepsia, without permanent relief, until a friend recommended National Pills. After taking one box, she recovered her health, and weighed twenty-five pounds more than before taking them. (25)

DON'T YOU FORGET IT—that on feeling an aching pain in the hollow of your back to go to your Druggist and get Dr. Van

BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE. It will remove the trouble in a few doses. dlwk PHOSPHATINE, a name which to every intelligent mind, professional or other-wise, is a key to its composition. No safer, purer, more pala able and more effective compound has ever been offered in cases of nervous exhaustion and pulmonary consumption. For sale by all BEAUTIFUL HAIR is one of the most striking and pleasing characteristics and can easily be obtained by using Cingalese Hair Renewer. Price 50 cents per bettle. For sale by all druggists.

L. P. FISHER, Advertising Agent, 21 Merchants Cachange, San Francisco, is authorised to receive ad-ertisements for the columns of this paper. YATES STREET OPENING.

Enquiries respecting the continuance of this important thoroughfare to the Cadboro bay road are very numerous. Popular feeling is unmistakably in favor of completing this work without delay. Some way or other the preliminaries are not making satisfactory progress, but just where the highly in one a general to know not making satisfactory progress, but just where the hitch is no one seems to know. No huestion was so well defined at the polls last January as this; and one old and energetic councillor was defeated purely in consequence of his opposition to the measure. Another candidate, also opposed, and a school trustee got permission to stay away from the council board on the same question. Every successful candidate, the mayor included, was very pronounced prior to election; and since then there are no two opinions among the councillors as to the necessity of opening then there are no two opinions among the councillors as to the necessity of opening the street; the only difference being as to whether it should go through the school reserve on a straight line or be detlected along the H. B. Co. fence. After the municipal election it was supposed that all would be plain sailing and that in a flow weeks the thing would be accomplished; but three months of the year are past and still little or nothing has been done. It seems that another private bill is now necessary as the one that the city is now necessary as the one that the city barrister had prepared in connection with the city map has been rejected by the private bills committee, or at least they have declined to entertain either it or the have declined to entortain either it or the map. This bill ought not to meet with any obstruction in its passage either through committee or the legislature in which case it will not be long before work can be commerced on the street. There is some talk of a direct vote of the rate-payers being necessary. This idea seems a very absurd one in view of the street opening being such a thorough test question at the late election; still should it be considered advisable no difficulty need be anticipated in this respect by the pro-

The organ on Saturday made gross misstatements with regard to the progress of the Esquimalt dock. Our contemporary says, "If the same amount of energy is continued for the balance of the year as has been displayed for the last few months past the dock should be completed and ready to take in vessels by the end of the year." On referring to Mr. Commissioner Beaven's report for 1882 we find that Kinnipple & Morris' estimate the quantity of coment still to be imported at 3488 tons. The Walkem-Beaven government put forth all their energies, and managed to get 1100 tons of that material delivered at Esquimalt in a little over twelve months. Therefore, "If the same amount of energy is continued" it will take over three years to obtain the ce-

IMMIGRATION AGENCY. The large influx of white immigrants and the expected early opening of the railway lands have rendered necessary the railway lands have rendered necessary the immediate appointment of an agent to look after the new arrivals, to point out to them the districts where government lands may be obtained, and, whenever practicable, to conduct them to favorable localities. The treatment immigrants received at the hands of the late government was the cause of many thousands who came to settle seeking homes elsewhere. The present government appreciate the importance of first attracting and then retaining a ready made white and then retaining a ready made white population. To attain the first object they are now engaged in the preparation of a handbook and map. To attain the second an intelligent, active, industrious, practical man should be appointed to the position of immigration agent immediate-

Latin in the Schools.

YALE, March 22, 1883.
TO THE EDITOR:—Again I crave space in your columns to reply to Mr. Delaney's last letter. It may seem odd to the public that after all he has said about a more extensive course he does not held a first A. The first A course includes English literature, ancient history, pneumatics, practical mathematics, one of the natural sciences, four extra books of Euclid, and all the more difficult parts of algebra and mensuration, besides Latin in addition to a first B. People acquainted with these mensuration, besides Latin in addition to a first B. People acquainted with these subjects know they are pretty extensive, and yet he does not require them for the certificate he now holds. By all means let him get a taste of the pie before he comments on its merits. Get up the course as it is, Mr. Delaney, and then, if you feel like having a more extended one comments on its merits. Get up the course as it is, Mr. Delaney, and then, if you feel like having a more extended one shout for it. * * You say there is no honor in competing with public school pupils. Now, sir, if it so be that a pupil from a public school is capable of passing a better examination than one from a high school, I contend he should never be shut out by Latin. "Give honor to whom honor is due" should be the ruling maxim. In Milton's time Latin was of practical use; but it takes a farseeing follow to find out just where its real use comes in at the present day. Please tell us if you ever were taught Latin in that Normal school of which you say you are a graduate. If not your signing yourself a "normalite" does not affect any of my statements. I am not opposed to having Latin on the programme; but I think it is decidedly wrong to make it a test subject. agraduate. If not your signing yourself many obstruction in its passage either through committee or the legislature in which cost it will not be long before work as the commenced on the atreet. THE CLEMITSON MATTER.

The ex-premier is again endeavoring to falsify the record in the Clemitson natter. In his organ he endeavors to make the public believe that the only ground of complaint lies in the fact that the report of the committee's report of the words will be more about the least house was not printed. This is a wilful incorrect statement. The fault lies in the emination from the report of that committee's report of the words and proceedings of the day the action of the louse is correctly printed; but when the journals of the assistion cannot be printed the words and proceedings of the day the action of the louse is correctly printed; but when the journals of the assistion cannot to be printed the words and proceedings of the counties are proved in the record in the case of public school system. FASHIONS. A few years ago a rich plain black silk was the piece de resistance of a lady's wardrobe. The material was unassisted by either cashmere or brocade or velvet : it stood alone in more senses than one, richly ornamented with whatever garniture was in fashion. Now such a garment would be decidedly vulgar indeed, plain black silk is now on ly used for combinations; there is in fact no such thing as plain material in dresses, even in mourning fabrics. Elegant designs are admitted; there are checks (opportunely) for violent grief, spots for tearless, stripes for feigned, and flowers for mitigated affliction. Even plain violet is passing into the limbo of the unfashionable; that rich stuff is now brocaded, embos sed, mingled with satin in design, and actually stripes of lace. Never was there an age of such variety of imagin-ative fancy in material. Some new silks will have a short reign; they are intended for mature, or at any rate, matronly charms; and now a days no one is matronly, unless, indeed, some charming or daring sylph, in her un-mistakeable teers, who challenges acmiration, and deties congruity, in mag-nificent broches, chevelure boudre, and neck and arms actually decently dress ed. Matrons mark their well devel oped contours by transparencies on their ample bosoms, and floating gos-samers round their substantial limbs, so the new three inch striped silks will have a short reign.

PRINCE KRAPOTKINE, although with his own admission on such a turbulent Socialist, seems to have made many sincere friends in this country. The memorial for his release will shortly be sent to the French Gov-ernment. It does not assert his inno-cence of the charges for which he has been condemned. It asks for his release on the score of his ill-health, and of the services he is capable of rendering to science and literature. Among the most active of the memorialists are Mr. James Payn, Dr. Richardson, and Professor Bayns and Robertson Smith, the editors of the "Encyclopæ-dia Britannica," to which M. Krapotkine was a contributor. Among those men of science who have declined to sign the memorial is Professor Hux-[Regular Correspondence of the Colonist]

Again, the value of the work performed on the dock from the first of July to the fifth of December, 1882, (five months) is $11,500. (See resident engineer's certificate, page 301.) If this display of "energy" be continued, estimating the unexpended amount of the original contract at $300,000, it would just take the Beaven government ten years and five months to complete the dock. As to the cost, from Mr. Beaven's report it appears some $25,000 have been expended in executing eleven thousand five hundred dollars worth of work. Therefore, if this energeit waste of funds be continued it would take $678,000 to complete work that McNamee & Co. valued at $300,000, including contractors' profits.

A CHINESE GANG HALF KILL THEIR FOREMAN.

They are Placed Under Arrest

(Special to the Colonist)

NEW WESTMINSTER, March 26. A man named Nevens, employed as Chinese foreman on the railway works at Maple Ridge, was brought down to the hospital to-day severely cut about the head and unconscious from his injuries and loss of blood. Very little hope is expressed as to his recovery. It appears that for some reason that has not transpired he was set upon by his gang early this morning who attacked him with their working tools. Mr. Hamilton, the railway superintendent, has placed the gang under arrest and will bring them to this city to-night. Full particulars will be obtained on his arrival.

Further Particulars.

SECOND DISPATCH.

NEW WESTMINSTER, March 26.

At the magistrates court held this morning at Maple Ridge a Chinaman was convicted and sent up for trial for an aggra-vated assault on foreman Nivens. The Chinaman who is described as a vicious looking and vindictive man was ordered off the work for disobedience of orders, on the work for chasheddence of orders, suddenly turning on Nivens and hit him twice with his shovel severely cutting him and fracturing his skull. Nivens is tonight reported to be in no immediate the configuration.

The Wounded Ox.

There are many imitations of the parable of the Good Samaritan. Some of them are good and others are tolerable; but none equals the simplicity and tenderness of the original. The following, from the Detroit Free Press, aims to teach the parable lesson in the dialect of the nineteenth century. We don't exactly like teenth century. We don't exactly like its cynical moral,—it only expresses a half-truth.—but the parable itself is both

An enterprising teetotaler, actively engaged in the propagation of his principles, has secured a consignment of of kala nuts, and is now organizing a method for disposing of them in the right quarters. For the kala nut, it is said, not only is food and drink to all who eat it, but it but also serves to render the very flavor of alcholic beverages nauseous to those who once taste it. Some thorough-going Good Templars have suggested the waylaying of drunkards and the administering of a dose of kala nut by main force while others propose to hold tea-fights and get them to taste it unawares in the cup that cheers. But, at least, it would seem to be the duty of every good teetotaler to carry his kala-box about with him, ready to administer a pill or two of the nut to any drunkard he may meet. - London Figaro.

The astate editor of the London World has made a wonderful discovery. Corn-meal, he says, tastes like the smell of mice, appears to the tongue to contain a large quantity of sand, and those who habitually eat it go mad. This is a terri-ble revelation. For a couple of centuries a large proportion of the American poo-ple have subsisted on cornmeal almost to the exclusion of flour, and in those dis-tricts where cornmeal is most used statics do not indicate an undue proportion of insanity. It is related that George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Robert E. Lee had an extravagant fondness for food made from cornmeal. It is about the mental organization of these men; but will the World assert that is was mere cornmeal?

When the survivors of the Kenmure Castle, which foundered on February 2nd Castle, which foundered on rebruary and in the Bay of Biscay, drifted away in the cutter from the sinking ship, they saw Captain Barrett, standing calmly on the bridge smoking a cigar and waving a farewell. They were startled on ob-serving human feet within about four feet of the mouth of the conduit or drain. Information was given to the police. The body was taken out of the conduit, when it was found to be that of a woman about forty-live years of age, of medium height, with dark hair. The announcement that Mr. Gladstone has come to an amicable understanding with the French government by which France will be induced to cordially co-operate with England in the final settlement of the Egyptian difficulties, will satisfy those who think England ought not to have gone to war with Arabi, and who, now that she is involved in the domestic affairs of Egypt, ought to get out of them as soon as possible. If an un-derstanding has been reached we shall soon learn its character. France declined to unite with England in the restoration of order in Egypt. Her commercial in-terests are trifling. England's commercial interests very great. England has incurred an expenditure of £4,500,000 sterling; France has been at no expense whatever. If the terms are those of equality then France has decidedly the best of the bargain. It would be an arrangement based upon Communistic morals—that those who labor and those who are idle shall share alike.

The salaries of the Church of England The salaries of the Church of England bishops are something enormous, it would seem, and entirely disproportionate to the services rendered. There are thirty-one bishops and the highest salary is that of Dr. Benson, the new archbishop of Canterbury, $75,000; the next are those of archbishop Thompson, of York and bishop Jackson, of London, each $50,000; the next is that of bishop Lightfoot of Durham, $40,000; and the lowest is that of

Murdored While at Prayer,

LONDON, March 6. - The Athens correspondent of the Standard sends an account of a horrible crime which is reported from Constantinople:—"Every Friday
--the Turkish Sabbath—prayers for the Sultan are read in all mosques. During divine service last Friday at the Mosque of Sultan Achmet, one of the finest build-ings in the capital, the imaum or priest mounted the pulpit to perform this duty at a moment when the sacred edifice was crowded with the faithful. The priest was on the point of reciting the prayer in question when suddenly a softi or religias student, who had followed him up ous student, who had followed him up the steps of the pulpit, d.ew a yataghan, which he had concealed in the folds of his garment, and, exclaiming in a loud voice, "What! you would pray for a man who is bringing this country to ruin!" split his head open. The congregation leaded on parkey while the congregation split his head open. The congregation looked on aghast while the assassin quietly descended from the pulpit, seemingly indifferent about making his escape, and remarked that Abdul Hamid had no right to be chief of the faithful, as he had not fulfilled any of the obligations of his po-sition. No attempt was made by those present to arrest him, and some even attempted to favor his escape. The assassin was ultimately captured by the police, and by the Sultan's order removed to Yildiz Kioxk, where he is confined pending his examination.
